SATURDAY AFTERNOON, JULY 5.

SATURDAY AFTAM.

TO THE PUBLIC.—From the 1st day of July, 1861, the postage on the Dady American Telegraph, Washington city, D.C., will be, per quarter in advance, as follows:—Fifty miles or under, 20 cents; over fifty and not over three hundred, 50 cents; over three hundred and not exceeding one thousand, 75 cents, &c. Any person wishing to be served for three months after the above date need only pay his quarter's postage, and send us a gold dollar and a silver quarter in a small letter—postage paid, or course; or five dollars for a year. The Telegraph is independent in politics, polite, moral, agreeable, and familiar, prompt in furnishing the news, and a terror to all evil doers.

Editors of weekly and other papers desirous to exchange with us can pay the difference in the prices of aubscription by giving a few insertions to the above notice.

Business of all kinds has been at a stand for a day, and we have little to report of commercial news beyond what our Georgetown letter and telegraphic news contain.

INDEPENDENCE DAY .- Our National Anniver sary is past. Yesterday our entire population withdre, w from the toils, the labors and the cares of business, and gave themselves up to the celebration of a national festival: to-day. order, industry and thrift are everywhere ap-

We have never see a more auspicious day for such an occasion. A refreshing shower had preceded it, and cool and pleasant breezes prevailed throughout the day, while transient clouds were passing beneath the son, assuaging his fervor and protecting from his constant glare. There was scarcely a thought of heat, and even the most exposed situations were not

The programme of the day's proceedings, like the orders of General Scorr on the eve of his battles, might be written down as history after the event.

The whole procession was under the command of J. Madison Cutts, Chief Marshal. It was not very large, but respectable in extent, and beautiful, orderly and imposing in appearance. Of all who united in it, the Marshals alone rode. Even the President of the United States took his position in the line on foot.

The first division comprised the military escort, under the command of L. J. Middleton, marshal, and presented an admirable appearance. It consisted of the "Washington Light Infantry," Capt. TATE; the "National Greys," Lieut. TATE; the "Walker Sharpshooters." Lieut. Birkhead; the "Columbia Artillery," of Baltimore, Major M'Allister; the "National Blues," of Baltimore, Captain CHESTNUT; the "Artillery," of Alexandria, Capt. Duffy. In addition to the martial music of each company there were the Marine Band, stationed at our Navy Yard, and the Light Infantry Band, led by Capt. Marsolette.

The officers of the Army and Navy formed a noble-looking feature in this first division of the procession.

officers of the United States government, of Washington, Georgetown, &c.

The third division, under G. A. Schwarzman, marshal, consisted of the Masonic fraternity, which turned out in larger numbers, it is said, than on any previous occasion in this city. The fourth division, Joseph Libbey, marshal, exhibited a grand display of the several Temperance orders, for whom the day was one of proudest triumph.

The fifth division, under S. L. Lewis, marshal, embraced various other societies, delegations, &c.

The ceremony of laying the corner-stone could of course be witnessed by but few of the great multitude assembled, which probably rites of the Masonic fraternity were duly observed in the ceremony.

The address of B. B. FRENCH, M. W. G. M. not more than twenty minutes; but it was well expressed and to the purpose, associating the great idea of Union with the important event of the day.

The oration of Mr. WEBSTER, though curtailed in the delivery, occupied nearly two hours. It was a wise, elaborate and patriotic review of the past and present condition of our country, and comprised the recital of much statistical data. There was probably less in it intended or adapted to merely entertain the hearer than in any other oration ever delivered on a like occasion; but more to interest, to arouse us to a right appreciation of our true condition and destiny as a nation.

About three o'clock the booming cannon aunounced that the ceremonies were ended, and the several companies and societies were on their march to their places of disbanding.

The military companies of our city with their guests, were entertained throughout the day at the National Hotel.

The Sons of Temperance repaired to their Hall where a splendid collation had been prepared for them by Mr. C. Columbus. They gathered around the tables in large numbers, and water and lemonade, of which they had an abundant supply. Their repast being over, they passed a good portion of the afternoon in cheerful conversation and short speeches, and separated sober and without a fight or a quarrel throughout the whole day-of course!

The afternoon passed off in quietness. Off the Avenue the aspect of a Sabbath day was presented in most sections of the city. On the Avenue, crowds of people of all colors passed to and fro in pursuit of every novelty, and in evident enjoyment of the independence realized by many of them. The Baltimore Military Companies were between four and five o'clock escorted to the cars by the Light Infantry and Independent Greys; and the Alexandria volunteers were escorted to the steamboat wharf by the Walker Sharpshooters.

Night had scarcely closed in upon us ere the gorgeous pyrotechnic display was begun, and our whole city came forth to see it. Many approached the scene of this exhibition, but many more were content to behold from a distance the brilliant lights as they ascended into air and exploded in glowing beauty.

And then this too was over, and silence again reigned, and the star-studded sky was more magnificent than all, and the pure and silvery moon glided in graceful beauty above the fleecy

AMERICAN TELEGRAPH clouds that were flitting by; and the heavens trees, and every thing seemed to know that man was independent of all but the hand that creates, and moves, and guides them all; and all seemed to testify that His smile was upon us, and that ours was a land of plenty, of security and peace. And so sleep rested upon us until the light of another beautiful and happy day had dawned.

> TEMPERANCE OFFERING TO THE MONUMENT .-The delegation of the Grand Division of the Sons of Temperance of Pennsylvania, about fifty in number, arrived in this city on Monday evening. Yesterday morning, at about eight o'clock, accompanied by the Grand Division of the District of Columbia, and the Subordinate Divisions, amounting to about three hundred in number, they proceeded, with martial music, to the base of the Monument, where, upon an elevated platform, were seated the President of the United States, the Attorney General, Gen. Scott, Gen. Henderson, Gen. W. Jones, G. W. P. Custis, and other distinguished gentlemen.

> A. F. Cunningham, esq., introduced the com mittee in behalf of the delegation from Pennsylvania, in a neat and eloquent address-R. M. Foust, esq., F. A. Van Dyke, M. D., and Thomas W. Marchant, esq.

> Mr. Foust then, in a most beautiful, patriotic and truthful speech, presented the offering of the Grand Division of Pennsylvania. It is a stone of Pennsylvania marble, purely white, and was taken from a quarry in Montgomery county, in the neighborhood of Valley Forge. On its face is the Genius of Temperance, reclining on a rock from which gushes a stream of water, in the act of presenting a tablet-on which is inscribed, "The surest Safeguard of the Liberties of our Country is the principle of Total Abstinence from all that intoxicates"-to the Genius of Liberty, who stands holding a staff, with the cap of liberty, one hand resting on medallion, on which a head of Washington (a very good likeness) appears. Over the tablet is a triangle, with the radiant star; on the margin of the triangle are the words, "Love, Purity, and Fidelity." The tablet is surrounded with a wreath, composed of roses, lilies, and violets. The margin of the stone is surrounded with a wreath of oak leaves.

The President of the United States responded in a brief address, in which he dwelt in terms of high commendation upon the great temperance cause, and its benign influence upon our General Walter Jones followed, and said, among other good things, that temperance was to prove the true independence of our nation; that mankind had too long worshipped Bacchus, and that all other temporal reforms sank into insignificance when contrasted with this.

The whole body then repaired to their place in the grand-procession of the day.

THE SABBATH SCHOOL of the Fourth Presbyterian church, under the direction of their The second division consisted of the civic superintendent, (Mr. D. M. Wilson,) presented procession, under Dr. Magruder, including the a brilliant display on Ninth street, in proceeding from the church to the residence of their pastor, (Rev. J. C. Smith,) on New York aveaue, by whom they were cordially welcomed in a brief address, to which Mr. Thomas McGill responded in behalf of the teachers and scholars of the school.

They were then conveyed by the Citizens Line of omnibuses to the beautiful grove of Mr. W. J. Stone, east of Columbia College, where the day was spent in a most appropriate manner, with no occurrence to detract from the happiness of the occasion.

The Declaration of Independence was read by Master Thomas Clements, in a clear and distinct voice, after which G. W. Pleasants, esq., delivered an oration, in which the greatness of numbered ten thousand persons. The ancient spirit and action of the men of '76 were eloquently portrayed, and their virtues commended to the imitation of his attentive hearers.

At the conclusion of the oration, Masters of the District of Columbia, was brief, occupying | Clephane, Macfarland, and Hanson entertained &c. the school with recitations, which elicited the praise of all present.

During the day a number of well-selected airs were sung by an amateur glee club, whose harmonious strains were in strict accordance with the entire proceedings of the day.

Before leaving the ground, the school unanimously tendered a vote of thanks to Wm. J. Stone, esq., for the use of his grove.

ENGLISH HILL.-This neighborhood, on F street, between Second and Third, is chiefly occupied by Irish laborers, many of them good, kind, well-disposed, industrious men; but there are some bad ones among them also, as a couple of grog-shops near by attest. Yesterday these dens did their work, and there was some fierce fighting, and many cut heads. The work was resumed to-day, but the police repaired to the spot. A single arrest was made, that of Nicholas Murray. Officers Burr and Martin brought him before Justice Donn, who has no doubt FIRE.-The new and pretty carpenter shop of Messrs. Garrett & Phillips, on 11th street, above New York avenue, was yesterday defeasted sumptuously and drank freely of iced stroyed by fire, probably by an incendiary. We are informed they were insured to the amount of $500; but this probably does not place at a public dinner-table, and it is said that cover the loss.

> There was some drunkenness in our streets yesterday; but less probably than the 4th of July has ever seen.

> LOCKS AND KEYS .- The bidders for the Post Office Department's contract are expected to visit the department on Monday, to explain the advantages of the various kinds presented.

> Somebody in Philadelphia has sent a beautiful bouquet to Cummings, of the Evening Bulletin. "Sweets to the sweetest." We are the preferred in this city.

> SINGULAR.-Vocal and instrumental music is more effective in the United States than in Eu Cause—the atmosphere is purer and clearer in this country .- Phil. Sun.

> Is it true? Learn this before you look for cause. We do not believe in the fact, nor in the cause alleged to develope such a fact. Ours is not yet the land of melody and song.

FREE LECTURE.-We would direct the attention of ladies to the advertisement of Mr. Taylor.

A COLLECTOR.—We refer with commendation to the card of Mr. Richard H. Carver.

A GREAT CHIEF.—The Franklin (In diana)

ducing such volubility and variety of ir stonation as we could not have believed possible e had we as we could not have believed possible had we not heard them. He is operating at nong the American people with a view to the ultimate admission of his people to the rights of citizenship in the United States, for which he considers many of them now qualified. He speaks the English language with singular fa cility and appropriateness when it is considere d that he has never learned letters; and, what is still more remarkable, can speak in fifte en living tongues, and claims considerable knowledge of three or four dead languages."

But the Louisville Courier tells us that this Okah Tubbee is none other than Carey, a negro, or rather mulatto, who lived in that city some ten or twelve years si'ace! He was an excellent performer on the fife, flute and other musical nstruments, and belonged to the band of the old Louisville Guards, and when this fine company paraded he discoursed his music to the infinite delight of the crowds of urchins who 'followed the sogers!" Carey thought it would prove more profitable to turn Indian, and for several years he has been "starring" it through the country as Dr. Okah Tubbee, giving concerts, &c. Carey, the Courier remarks, has shown himself to be a worthy rival of Barnum in the humbugging line. He claims to be an Indian chief, and that his wife, who assists at his concerts, is an Indian princess.

It is known that in the absence of the President and Cabinet the affairs of State devolved upon us; and it may be known that no public acknowledgments have ever been tendered us for the able and faithful performance of the incumbent duties.

We are not yet free from responsibilities of grave nature. We are now authorized to say that the following seeming political edict, from the Philadelphia North American, has been submitted to the President of the United States by a distinguished Whig citizen of Pennsylvania, and that the President utterly repudiates its temper and import, and declares that he will in no manner interfere with or take part in any of the State elections.

"And now a few words in regard to the Whig party of this State, to itself, to the National Administration, and to Governor Johnston. It has been a part of the tactics of the enemy to represent that there will be a defection in the vote of this city and county. We have not been able to force upon ourselves the belief that this representation is true, or that any Whig, professing to recognise Whig principles and Whig faith, meditates deserting the banner under which he has served so long and so well. He is no friend-whatever he may claim to be-to the National Administration at Washington, who, under cover of any misera-ble pretext, should secretly or publicly oppose candidate. We have the best authority for say ing that all such-if any such there be-will regarded as the enemies of that Administra-

PUBLIC SCHOOLS .- The reward of merit to be presented to the pupils of these schools this summer will be a very beautiful affair. A handsome design has been adopted by the Board of Trustees, and drawn by an artist of this city, and is now in the hands of Mr. J. Arnold, who will engrave it on copper. It is about twelve by fourteen inches in size. The principal figure represented is that of the youthful Washington, with his surveying instruments beside him, while far in the back ground may be seen the monument now being erected by the nation to his memory; and "Reward of Merit." "Knowledge is Power." are the inscriptions surmounting this picture and beneath are the words "Awarded by the Trustees of the Public Schools of Washington,"

This certificate will be more highly prized by its recipients than have been the gifts heretofore presented, and will be preserved by all as a proud memorial of an honorable youth. We trust that no labor or expense will be spared to render it in all respects worthy the use for which it is designed.

ANOTHER BLOODY TRAGEDY. - Probable Death Three Young Men in a Rencontre, near Lynchburg .- The Richmond Republican of yesterday morning says:

"News reached Richmond yesterday, by the packet-boat, of another bloody and serious rencontre between some young men of the town of Lynchburg and county of Amherst, by which, two of the combatants were killed, and a third party supposed to have been mortally wounded.

"We understand that a young gentleman of Lynchburg, or vicinity, by the name of Williams, who had eloped with a daughter of Richard G. Morris, esq., of Amherst, was attacked on Monday last, at Lovingston, Nelson county, where the parties accidentally met, by a son Mr. Morris, whereupon a general melee took place between Williams, his brother, and a Mr. Hill, on one side, and young Mr. Morris on the other. Revolvers were used by all parties, and stantly killed, and one of the Messrs. Williams mortally wounded. The sad occurrence took a lady, who was in the room at the time, was also near being killed.
"We trust that this account may turn out to be exaggerated, though the news comes in a pretty direct way."

The Southern Press of yesterday morning contained the following:

"Although this is the anniversary of the most memorable act of secession and disunion that the world ever knew, we expect to hear of more declamation against the principles of '76, against the right of a people to alter or reform their government at pleasure, than ever was before. The folly and infatuation o a Lord North caused that disunion. We have a Lord North now!"

That was natural parturition, with all its agonies and all its sequences: this, excision and self-inflicted injury. The polypus is, we believe, the only being that suffers no impairment by it. We have, as the Press says, a Lord North now, and, indeed, several of them, and as many Lords South: but the Lord of All, through the instrumentality of as humble creatures as good republicans, will set their lordships at defiance, and preserve us in the future, as in the past, in prosperity and unity.

CRIMINAL COURT.-No trial is in progress

Mr. SECRETARY CORWIN.-We feel inclined Examiner, and many other papers out we st, are to defend this worthy functionary in his absence. loud in praise of a wandering Indian chie f, who Somebody has authoritatively telegraphed the is quite the lion of the day. That pape c says:

"Last evening we had the pless are of listening to the musical performance of brated Indian chief, Okah Tubbee, on of instruments, which upon the flute, and other instruments of that class, far s any thing of the sour we ever before hear rd—prothe annual meeting of the stockholders at Baltimore last week. There must be some misrepresentation in this matter. Mr. Corwin is not the man or public officer to do any thing of the kind. The whole truth in the matter has not yet been laid before the public. When it shall be, it will in no way implicate Mr. Corwin.

> THE SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR .- We have long since announced that, so far as our limits would permit, we would hold our columns open for political or other appropriate discussions by men of all parties. We to-day publish a communication under this rule with some regret, but it follows as the natural sequence of the (as we think) wanton expression of the Secretary of the Interior in his Richmond speech, made in the presence of the President of the United States and the Postmaster General. The bowie knife, as we have heretofore remarked, has been drawn in the Departments; crimination and recrimination have arisen, and Mr. Stuart best knows where and when they shall end. Ostracism has been proclaimed. It is or is not to be followed up. The interested desire to test the matter.

PORTSMOUTH NAVY YARD .- A gentleman re siding in the vicinity of this yard writes us: "The excitement in the navy yard has no subsided, though the men have resumed their labors. Captain Stringham has modified his order so as to have the gates opened half an hour before bell-ring, and has disclaimed any intention of imputing dishonesty to the men employed in the yard. So far this would seem enough; but they desired things to be placed in statu quo, and hence their dissatisfaction, especially as the order states that they must not loiter or wander about the ward before bell-ring which they say is an insult to them.

We are promised some more minute information upon this whole affair than has yet found its way to the public. In the mean time the missing property and the veritable thieves are being brought to light.

ACCIDENT .- Mr. Thomas Mills, of Alexandria, while returning on the cars yesterday from Black Lick church, was knocked off by coming in contact with a beam of a bridge. He fell some fifteen feet, which caused the fracture of his collar bone, and otherwise injured him.

JENNY LIND sang at Springfield on the 1st, and at Utica on the 2d-like an angel, they say, in both places.

A disgraceful fight occurred yesterday in the neighborood of Black Lick Church, near Alexandria. Five or ix young men were engaged in playing cards, drinking and otherwise disturbing the residents in that vicinity whom, as we understand, they provoked into fight, in which stones and clubs were freely used, which resulted in the serious injury of four or five of the combatants me young man received a blow on the temple which it ught will cause his death.

We have not learned the names of the parties nor the utrageous from the fact that it occurred but a short distance from the spot where one of the Alexandria Sabbath schools were engaged in their innocent mode of celebrating the National Anniversary.
